ABOUT ME

I am Kebaabetswe A. Sennelo, beginner software engineering student, currently studying with the Power Learn Project Africa, cohort 2025. I am a passionate self-starter who has embarked on a journey into carving a career in the tech industry. I have since found a field I am actively pursuing as my desired area of specialty, which is Web Development and Cybersecurity. I have been fortunate enough to put some of my self-taught web design skills to use under the ETDP SETA work placement program at Lenaka Business Solutions, where I was tasked with refreshing their company logo, and website. I am currently upskilling my web development skills by studying coding to better render quality service to future clients. I want to create solutions using tech innovations.
